

Say It Another Way!

1. We're looking for someone who is a great fit

- a. We would like to find someone who fits in with our organization
- b. We are seeking out someone who would work well on our team

2. We find that people who are detail-oriented tend to stand out

- a. Employees who pay attention to details usually do well here
- b. The standouts tend to be workers who think about small details

3. We find that people who are extremely passionate about driving innovation tend to stand out

- a. Employees who believe in innovation and like to make it happen tend to succeed here
- b. Team members who are excited about putting something new and innovative out into the world tend to do well here

4. I am confident that I could add a lot of value

- a. I know that I could add a lot to your organization
- b. I am sure that my skills could benefit your organization

5. You can't let anything fall through the cracks

- a. You can't forget about any small details
- b. You have to make sure that everything runs smoothly and that nothing is forgotten

6. It sounds like you have a lot to bring to the table

- a. It sounds like you have a lot to offer
- b. It seems like you could contribute a lot of great knowledge and skills